Volition

Volition (noun) – use of one's power of choosing and of will without being influenced by anything else.

Volition (n.) the exercise of the power of choosing or deciding; that system of thought that lays stress on volition; a decision; a choice; the act of choosing; the act of willing; the act of exercising the power of choice; the act of determining; the act of willing; the act of exercising the power of choice; the act of determining; the act of willing; the act of exercising the power of choice; the act of determining